

What do you want for Christmas?

Mmmm.
Smells nice.

Do you believe in Santa?

Typically.
Slippers and socks :-)

Yeah. My
mum's baking
minced pies.

I'm not a
baby!

Has mum gone
to the supermarket?

I can't find
anything interesting in this cookery
book.

I need a packet of cloves.

Yes, she's there at the moment.

Why don't you try
YouTube?

I'll go and get them. The corner shop is still open.

Are you spending
this Christmas
with your grandparents?

Your mum
looked a bit sick
during Christmas
dinner.

I lied to my mum about
the broken
ornaments.

No, we are moving to Canada next week.

She was cooking a lot
and was just
tired.

You should tell the truth.

This tree is really heavy.
Thanks a lot.

What are you doing
this evening?

I'm sick. I feel awful.

It was a pleasure.

Decorating
our Christmas tree with my sister.

Why don't you lie
down?

I'm very sorry. I didn't mean to spill
the gravy.

Is that true?

How can I
help you?

That's all right.

I'm sure it is.
I saw him
with his reindeer.

I'm looking for some ginger cookies.

How about making our own Christmas
cards?

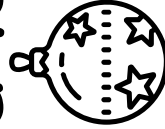

Could I ask
you something about Santa?

Will you buy
me a new iPhone for Christmas?

That sounds like a very good idea.

Please,
do.

That's out
of the question.

Where have you been?
Granny's been
so worried.

I'm doing a
project on Christmas
traditions.

I got stuck in the queue.

Shall I
help you?
